THE COAL STRIKE.
Methodists Adopt Resolution Calling Upon Roosevelt to Appoint Commission of Mediation.
New York, Sept. 29.—After a stormy session resolutions calling upon President Roosevelt to appoint a commission of mediation looking to ending the coal strike were adopted today at the weekly Methodist preachers' meeting. The resolutions recite that the strike has reached a stage which calls for the most serious attention of all Christian men, "that the interests of many of our people are specially involved, as well as those of the churches now under care, that it continued much longer the strike will result in unparalleled suffering among the poor of our great cities, and the time has now come for honest, earnest efforts, to bring about such a settlement as will be acceptable to all parties."

COLOMBIAN TROUBLES.
Guerrillas Defeated by Government Troops—Two Leaders Killed.
Colon, Sept. 29.—News was received here yesterday that a small government force defeated a band of guerrillas at Santacatalina, near Cartagena, killing the two leaders. An important engagement is possibly being fought now at Lucienaga, where Gen. Castillo, with a large army, has for some time past been harassing the government's forces. Lucienaga is near Santa Marta.

Information has also been received here to the effect that one thousand government troops have safely disbanded the Magdalen forts and made an overland march to attack Gen. Uribe Uribe at Tenerife.

It is reported that Gen. Perdomo is momentarily expected at Panama, and that he will have the same power as the secretary of state at Bogota, the capital.

HOP PICKING OVER.
Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 29.—Hop picking in Washington is now practically over. Hop growers are disappointed over the yield, which is one-fifth below what was expected. Dry weather prevented the hops from maturing. The western Washington crop will amount to 18,000 bales, as compared with 22,000 last year, and eastern Washington will produce 12,000 bales, compared with 14,000 bales last season. Oregon crops are just the reverse, and will reach 80,000 to 90,000 bales, as compared with 70,000 last year.

BRYAN MAY RUN.

Would Be Candidate Rather Than Allow Hill-Gorman Faction to Control Party.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 27.—The staff correspondent of the World (Democrat) travelling with Bryan in Kansas says it is not out of the question that Bryan may be a Democratic presidential candidate again. The opinion is based on statements by Bryan to close Democratic friends and repeated by them. The article says:

"Personally Bryan would prefer not to make the race and will probably not permit his name to be used if political candidates remain as they are. But should the Hill-Gorman faction attempt to secure control of the party he will in all probability become a candidate to prevent the party from falling into their hands. Financially, Bryan would lose even by election, for his annual earnings of $75,000 to $100,000, financial circumstances however, could not sway him from what he believes right."

"Bryan and Tom Johnson, of Ohio, are close personal friends and are in complete harmony on most of the principles of the Kansas City platform. Bryan is now making plans for the presidential nomination. Throughout the week he has positively refused to discuss for publication the probability of his being a candidate."

UNIQUE HONEYMOON TRIP.

Woman Dressed As a Man Arrested in a Box Car.

San Bernardino, Cal., Sept. 27.—In a round-up of hoboes found sleeping in box cars one woman was discovered dressed as a man. She gave her name as Mrs. James S. Smith, of Chicago, and claimed a young man who was with her as her husband.

She said she was married to Smith a year ago in Chicago and immediately after the ceremony the two started out on a unique honeymoon trip to beat their way across the continent. They have travelled 3,700 miles, the woman all the time disguised as a man, and have been arrested eleven times for vagrancy. In speaking of her eventful trip she said:

"I have ridden on brake beams in clouds of dust, on blind baggage cars in the intense cold of night and in box cars with none but hoboes for companions. I have been put off from trains in the Yuma desert, have gone hungry and taken pot luck with Indian sheep herders, and have picked fruit with men and earned man's wages when I could get work."

IRISH AFFAIRS.

Proprietor and Manager of Paper Sentenced to Terms in Prison.

Dublin, Sept. 29.—Timothy McCarthy and Thomas McDwyer, respectively proprietor and manager of the Irish People, have been on trial charged under the Crimes Act with having published intimidations, were each sentenced to-day to two months' imprisonment. They gave notice of appeal.

John Redmond, chairman of the Irish party, has summoned a meeting of Nationalist members of parliament for October 7th, for preparation of a programme for the coming campaign. Messrs. Redmond, Dillon and Davitt expect to sail for the United States October 10th to attend the National convention, which opens at Boston, Mass., October 19th.

The Law
Of health has no uniform guardians of its peace. If it had there would be arrests innumerable in every restaurant every day of the year. Both in the quantity and quality of the food they eat and in the manner of its consumption men and women are each day against the laws of health. Those who will not heed Nature's warnings can expect no stomach trouble, or indigestion and the inevitable penalty of careless eating.

There is no other medicine for diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition which can compare with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures these diseases permanently and enables the building up of the whole body into vigorous health.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carver, of Taylorville, La. Co. Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat just about anything now, and I don't know what I have done to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I met you, but I don't know what I would have done if I had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

EMILE ZOLA'S DEATH.

The Novelist's Wife Makes a Statement Regarding the Fatality.

Paris, Sept. 29.—At noon to-day Madame Zola, who had a narrow escape when her husband Emile Zola was hospitalized, where she recovered consciousness for a short time, and was able briefly to relate to a magistrate what had happened. To the magistrate Mme. Zola explained she woke early this morning with a splitting headache. She wakened her husband and asked him to open a window. She saw him rise and attempt to move towards the window, but he staggered and fell to the floor unconscious. Mme. Zola fainted at the same moment, and was therefore unable to give the alarm. Mme. Zola does not yet know of her husband's death, and it is feared she may suffer a relapse when informed of it.

A druggist, who was the first to arrive at the house in order to attend Zola and his wife, said: "When I entered the bedroom M. Zola was partly lying upon the floor amid matter thrown up from his stomach. No special odor likely to cause aphyria was distinguishable. The two victims, moreover, did not present exclusive symptoms of asphyria. Their faces were contorted and their lips were bloodless, but not violet colored."

"I think," he added, "it probable that the accident was caused by carbonic gas, which lay mainly below the level of the high bed. M. Zola and his wife were thus not suffocated on the bed. M. Zola was awakened by the effect of the gas and tried to rise, but he was seized with vomiting, fainting and thus fell to the floor, where he also overcame, but less so than her husband."

The commissary of police in his report to the prefect of police says: "The heating stove was not lighted, and there was no odor of gas. It is believed that the death was due to accidental poisoning by drug. Two little dogs found in the bedroom were alive."

Dr. Leycrman, who attended the victims, is quoted as saying in an interview published this afternoon that the plate of the stove was still warm, and that the elections came from a dose. The commissary of police, in a second report, endorsed the medical opinion that Zola's death was accidental and due to asphyria.

he prefect has ordered the city architect to examine the bedroom in which M. Zola died and has issued instructions that an analysis be made of his blood, and of the atmosphere of this room.

M. Zola had been resting from literary work since he finished his book called "The Truth," which is being published in serial form.

The obituary notices pay tribute to Zola's high literary labors. The Temps says the French literature has suffered on the loss which will be keenly felt. The newspapers judge Zola's role in the Dreyfus affair, according to political bias.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

Former Chancellor of the Exchequer on Government's Attitude to Opponents—War Office Reforms.

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Michael Hicks Beach, the former chancellor of the exchequer, delivered a lecture at Bristol to-night in which he outlined the attitude of the government with respect to the opponents of the Education bill who had declared their refusal to carry out the provisions of the bill, if it is enacted, or to pay the rates required. Sir Michael said the strongest argument could not be that the parliament would abolish denominational schools. That being so, they provided the only way of meeting the difficulty, namely, the extension of elementary education. The former chancellor of the exchequer said that he might need some alteration, but if the matter were left alone, the bill would be no more than a threat of resistance to the bill of parliament by local authorities or by ratepayers to the payment of rates. If the local authorities failed in their duty, said Sir Michael, the government would enter their work to parliament would ensure that they would deal with those who, by refusing to pay the rates, range themselves on the side of anarchy.

Sir Michael criticized the war office as chiefly responsible for the present national expenditure. He said the South African war did not compare to the war in the Sudan in economy and efficiency, and that there was now necessity for drastic reforms in the war office, on the military, however, rather than on the civil side. He declared he had told his colleagues as much, and that he intended to continue his warnings. They would never reform the war office until they made the great mass of military officers pay the same attention to the duties of their profession as naval officers did, and until they removed all outside influences interfering with the management of the army as well as selections, appointments and promotions, which never would be tolerated in the civil service. Sir Michael said that he thought he could honorably relinquish his former office now that the finances of the country were in a more flourishing condition, and that there was a prospect of reduction in taxation. He said, however, he intended to continue a while as member of parliament for West Bristol.

NEW ORLEANS STRIKE.

Passenger Cars at Standstill—Electric Linemen Called Out.

New Orleans, Sept. 29.—Not a car for passenger traffic on the street railway left the barns in New Orleans to-day. Mail cars were sent out, however, and accompanied their work with but one instance of molestation. A mob of strikers near one of the barns swarmed upon a car as it was run out and stole the controlling handle. One arrest followed. All the electric linemen in this city were called out in a sympathetic strike this afternoon. This means that the city of New Orleans will be in darkness unless the trouble is adjusted quickly. No telephone, telegraph, electric light or trolley wires can be mended now. A policeman was struck on the head and badly hurt this afternoon while attempting to protect a street car.

THE EXHIBITION JUST HELD AT SAANICHTON

Comparisons in Some Classes With Last Year's Show—Results of the Races.

In comparison with last year's exhibition it is doubtful if, on the whole, the fair just held at Saanichton was quite as satisfactory. Certainly the hall was not as well filled, the roots in particular in no way approaching the showing made in this department last year. According to some of those interested, the exhibitors were disinclined to make large displays because they feared the District committee would collar them next year, which has stimulated the energetic committee to leave no stone unturned to repeat the performance at the forthcoming exhibition.

The advertisement derived from the winning of the first prize was an excellent one for the district, and it is a pity some of the exhibitors did not more eagerly co-operate with the committee in preparing this year's Saanichton display. A larger exhibit of roots would have greatly facilitated the work of the committee in this respect.

There is surely no ground for criticism as to the outside exhibits. The horses and cattle were quite as numerous as last year, while the sheep classes were very well filled.

The officers of the association are, as follows: President, W. Thomson; vice-president, W. Le. Treasurer, secretary, F. Thompson; directors, Messrs. G. Bradley, Dyne, J. T. Harrison, J. W. Martindale, Geo. Simpson, J. G. McKay, W. Dean, W. Young, E. H. Marcotte and Hy. Tanner.

Secretary F. Thompson will retire this year, after twelve years continuous service on the directorate, five of which have been as secretary.

The following special exhibits have not hitherto been mentioned: Percy Emerson, collections of paintings and drawings; Mrs. R. Thomson, Sidney, collection of pressed sea shells.

The attendance from Victoria was between four and five hundred, all of whom appeared well pleased with their day's outing. A large number remained for the dance, which was kept up until midnight, a special train bringing them back to the city. The Sehl-Bantley orchestra supplied the music.

The races were well contested and attracted a large crowd of spectators. The results were as follows:

Horse Races.
1. Running race, for Indian horses only, 1/2 mile—J. Johnny Peters.
2. Running race, for farmers' horses, amateur riders, qualifications to be decided by the judges, 1 mile in length, best of 3—J. Doc McLean, owned and ridden by J. Taylor; 2. Pedro, owned and ridden by J. Durand.
3. Running race, for all horses, 1/2 mile, the lead at the first turn, but being overtaken by Doc McLean, who finished first. There was a protest filed by the owners of the other horses against the first horse, claiming he was not properly qualified. This, however, was settled by the committee on the Saturday date.
4. Running race, between Doc McLean, ridden by J. Taylor, and Karabel, ridden by Simons. This also was a close race, McLean leading during first half, but being passed by Karabel, who won by a few lengths.

Bicycle Races and Log Chopping.
1. Indians' race—J. Johnny Peters.
2. Bicycle race, for residents of farming districts—J. Geoffrey Ventrigh; 2. Sydney Ventrigh.
3. Log chopping contest—J. Gus Underwood.

The judges to whom the association is indebted for their impartial decisions were as follows: Horses, Messrs. Earl and Hon. Victoria; cattle, Wai-son Clarke, Victoria; sheep and pigs, J. Mitchell, Victoria; poultry, G. C. Anderson, Victoria; grain, roots and fruit, Messrs. Baker, of Hammond, B. C.; butter, bread, etc., Mr. and Mrs. M. Young, New England, Victoria; ladies' work, Mrs. Bickford and Mr. A. Wilson, Victoria.

AN ELECTION TRICK.

The violence of partisans in the Scots elections, who carry off the voters by force, reminds me of a manoeuvre which was practiced many years ago at a contested election for Huntingdonshire. Sir Robert Bernard had kept back a reserve of votes for the last day of the poll, who were to come in from a particular part of the county; but Lord Sandwich, who had opposed his son to him, opened a booth on the road, by which they were to come in, under the colors of Sir Robert. Here he had placed several of his friends, who insisted upon the electors coming to the side of the booth where they were to vote, but the booth had disappeared, with the host and all his merry companions. —From the London Times of 1902.

COUNCIL DEBATES SEWER QUESTION

ALDERMAN BARNARD SUBMITS HIS SCHEME

Engineer Topp's Application for Additional Remuneration Discussed at the Meeting.

The city council held a long session last evening. Several matters of the most engrossing interest were under discussion. The subject which occupied the greatest attention was that introduced by Ald. Barnard's motion to double the sewer rentals in the city for the purpose of making it possible to extend the present system so as to give the outlying districts the advantages of the city system.

It was realized that the subject was a most important one and that it would be to the advantage of the council to more fully discuss it at another meeting.

A communication was received from Mr. Justice Martin, based upon the report that the council had applications for water from non-residents. It called attention to the deficient supply now existing in the city, and further called attention to the question of whether the city had the right to grant this privilege to non-residents. A series of questions were appended to the communication.

Ald. McCandless moved that the communication be laid on the table as there were several other matters in connection with this subject and he would like to have the whole question dealt with at once.

Ald. Grahame suggested that the questions of Mr. Justice Martin should be answered. He moved that they should be referred to the water commissioner.

His Worship pointed out that there were some questions which could not be answered.

Ald. McCandless altered his motion to cover this, moving that the water commissioner should report upon these questions.

The motion was carried.

A communication was read from Mr. Munroe, representing that his water supply was insufficient during the summer. He complained that the pipe at the end of Michigan street was too small and otherwise defective.

Ald. Williams moved that it be referred to the water commissioner.

Ald. Barnard took occasion to express the wish that all the kickers should be moved out to near Elk lake, where they would be nearer the water supply and farther away from the taxes. He thought some of them might exercise a little patience under the circumstances.

The matter was referred to the water commissioner.

A. Munroe called attention to an open ditch near his place. The matter was referred to the city engineer.

A communication was read from the Imperial Automatic Voting Machine Company, setting forth the merits of the machine and urging its use upon the council, as was made possible by a recent order-in-council.

The question of price was raised, when it was pointed out that the price varied according to the machine. The letter was referred to the finance committee.

A communication was read from Jan. W. Bland, referring to the city engineer with the drain. The matter was referred to the city engineer with instructions to act.

A communication from J. G. Watson, on Third street, asking that the sewer be extended so that he might connect with the Toronto street not being connected with the drain. The matter was referred to the city engineer with instructions to act.

was that the company paid a fee to the provincial government. The communication was received and laid on the table.

A communication was received from Hon. Senator Macdonald referring to the action of the city in refusing the prayer of the Lord's Day Alliance with regard to closing the cigar stores on Sunday.

The letter recited reasons for opposition to the city collector's opinion. The letter was received and filed.

The city engineer's report was read. It called attention to the need of sewer connection with the residence of Mrs. Brown and the need of repairs to a section of sidewalk on Cormorant street.

The city engineer further reported that the masonry in connection with the James Bay causeway was completed, and asked for extra remuneration. The report was as follows:

I have the honor to report that the stone work on the James Bay causeway was completed on Thursday last, with the exception of the small concrete platform on Belleville street, which cannot be done at present.

I am pleased to state that the entire undertaking has met with success and is well within the estimate, notwithstanding the many difficulties and the unfavorable season of the year during which the construction of the foundation, etc., was carried out. I may say that the causeway in question has involved a large amount of extra work and carrying out of the entire work, viz.: All the duties and the details which would fall upon the contractor, together with his responsibility and method of carrying out the construction work at all its stages.

2. Such overtime was found necessary owing to the season of the year, the times being unfavorable during working hours, and the unfavorable season of the year during which the construction of the foundation, etc., was carried out.

3. I have been responsible for the design, construction and carrying out of the entire work, without the assistance or expense of a consulting engineer and clerk of works, which, in my opinion, has been a great saving to the city.

4. During the construction of the causeway, in order to satisfy myself, I visited the works almost every night, and on two occasions found it necessary to be on duty between 4 and 5 a. m. in the city, in order to show the interest taken in the work.

With regard to the cost, it is considerably below the estimate given by the city engineer. There are a number of items which I could not be expected to estimate upon, as for instance, the cost of the foundation, etc., of the second pipe-drain, costs of arbitration, moving of Mackintosh's boat-house, etc., and there are a number of other items which I have not included in my estimate.

Under these circumstances I would respectfully request the council to consider the application made by me in December last for remuneration in connection with this work, as a large portion of which was outside my regular duties.

I consider I was entitled to ask the council for the services of a consulting engineer. Had I done so, his fee would probably have been 25 per cent. on the estimated cost of the work, or $3000. I might also have asked that a clerk of works be appointed. This would have cost not less than $1,500 without overtime. I have, by much labor, saved the city these two items, about $4,500. I do not think it would be unreasonable to ask for $3,000 as a remuneration for my services.

In answer to the Mayor, Mr. Topp said that this did not include the Belleville street wall.

Ald. Grahame, referring to the matter, said that the city engineer had carried out his work well. He would favor a grant of $1,500.

At the suggestion of the Mayor, who held the motion out of order, the money as the council could not vote money without a recommendation from the finance committee, it was altered to one of a recommendation to the finance committee.

Ald. Williams thought the time for voting a bonus to Mr. Topp was premature. He thought the matter should be allowed to stand for the present, and he would like to be understood that he did not appreciate the services of Engineer Topp.

Ald. Barnard, purely for information, asked if the council could vote money without the consent of the finance committee. Being answered in the negative, he said the finance committee really controlled the council then in the matter of expenditure. His Worship said by the by-law this was the case.

Ald. Barnard thought this condition placed the council in a most anomalous position. He expressed himself as ready to look into the matter and see if it could not be remedied by an amendment to the by-law if necessary.

Referring to the question under discussion he was in favor of remunerating the city engineer. The city collector had been given an additional grant in connection with the consolidation of the by-laws.

Ald. Williams, in answer to this, said that there was a difference in the work, for which extra remuneration was asked. The consolidation of the by-laws was a work not undertaken every year.

Ald. Barnard—"How many causeways do we build each year?"

Ald. Williams said that when the city engineer was engaged this work was in contemplation and his salary was made larger in view of the fact that such a work was to be undertaken.

Ald. McCandless was opposed to a grant being made at present. There were other works to be undertaken and he thought it was a wise plan to lay the matter over. He moved that the matter be laid over.

Ald. Kinsman also favored leaving the matter over. The work was not really done. It was yet to see whether the retaining wall would carry the embankment or not. He expected that the wall would bear the test, but he thought the work should be completed before the bonus was paid.

Ald. Yates thought Mr. Topp's work was completed. The plan had been adopted by the council and they had approved of it, so that even if the work proved insufficient the work of the engineer had been carried out.

His Worship could not agree that the council should regard itself responsible. They were not specialists upon such subjects.

The city assessor submitted a plan for the division of the city into wards and the special committee appointed for the same purpose reported. The following are the reports:

Obedient to your instructions I have now the honor of forwarding to you map showing redrawing of the city into five wards, four returning two representatives each, and one returning only one representative; also statement showing assessment of each proposed ward, together with number of voters and acreage. With respect to voters in each case, I wish to say that the number given is only approximate, as it is based upon last year's list, but is near enough correct for all practical purposes.

ASSESSED D VALUES.

Land.	Imps.	Total.	Voters.	Acreage.
Ward A	$ 2,354,005	$1,501,530	3,824,225	1,150

Ward D	2,322,365	1,513,365	3,910,485	920
Ward E	1,100,615	743,000	1,903,040	531

Re-Subdivision of City Into Wards.

Your committee consider that in view of the alteration in the principle of voting in the Amendment Act of 1897, by introducing one man one vote, and in view of the necessity for reuniting the voters' list on this principle, and in view of the intended application in the next session for a charter in course of preparation, it is inexpedient to make any alteration in the existing subdivision of the city into wards until next year.

Your committee in the course of their investigation ascertained that the assessed value of Victoria West, as now existing, is $288,200; real estate voters, 350; acreage, 342; and according to the provisions of the Municipal Classes Act, a separate ward for this district cannot be constituted.

In moving the adoption of the reports of the committee, Ald. Grahame held that the city should not be entitled to separate representation inasmuch as the assessed value of this part was only $288,000, while the assessed value of the whole city was $10,735,000. This would only give them about twenty-five per cent. of one alderman as their share.

A petition was presented by the retail grocers asking for the closing of the shops. It was referred to the city solicitor to ascertain if the law had been complied with, and if so to prepare a by-law.

The standing committee on finances reported accounts to the amount of $1,064.30. The usual course was adopted with them.

This again raised the question of the powers of the finance committee. Ald. Worthington asked what would be done if the council refused to pay these accounts.

Ald. Barnard again attacked the principle contained in the extraordinary powers of the finance committee, which he regarded as nonsensical.

His Worship pointed out that this was deemed necessary upon the principle that the council could not leave office with any debt and that this prevented any possibility of such.

Ald. Cameron pointed out that the auditor was the most important member in this checking system, as he had to certify that the funds were available for the purposes intended.

A supplementary report from the finance committee asking for a grant of $1,000 for preliminary work in connection with the new Point Ellice Bridge By-law was passed.

Ald. Vincent's motion respecting lighting was ruled out of order. The motion was amended by making it a recommendation.

Ald. Williams asked if the dynamo were working to their full capacity.

Ald. Kinsman said they were not, but the funds were worked to their full capacity.

The motion was carried.

Ald. Barnard's motion proposing the doubling of the sewer rentals was then discussed.

Ald. Barnard called attention to the fact that fifty per cent. of the communications coming before the council were upon the subject of defective drains. It would be financially a benefit to the city to have this matter attended to.

He called attention to the losses sustained by defective sewerage. He instanced a case in which a property owner in the Rock Bay district had, after the plans for his dwelling had been drawn up, sold his property and taken up his residence in Santa Barbara, because he could not have sewer connection.

That man was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, and had been lost to the city. He did not claim to be the originator of this scheme. He had received his inspiration from Ald. McCandless. Those living in the outlying districts were suffering under an injustice. Just about one half of the city in value was sewered. Upon this $490,000 had been borrowed. The unsewered districts were contributing one half of the amount necessary for interest on the sinking fund. Already $223,000 had been paid in this way, one half of which was paid by the unsewered sections. The present system was wrong. It was an outrage upon the unsewered districts which were bearing their share of the cost, and at the same time paying for having their scavenger work done. The system should in the first place have been done under the local improvement system. Now to even matters it would be wise to put the extra cost upon those who had derived the benefit. It would take about $435,000 to complete the system.

There was now only about one third of the area of the city sewered, but in the unsewered part there was only about 1,770 dwellings as compared with 3,900,000 the system could be put in such shape that the revenue would provide for the remaining $150,000. In expending $150,000, as was proposed, he saw the danger that they were really increasing the sewerage section to such an extent that those enjoying this benefit would unite and a strong enough to defeat any scheme for further extending it.

Rather than see this scheme defeated he proposed to raise an agitation among those on the outside who had been sufferers under this inequitable system, which would force a means of redress.

Ald. Williams favored the scheme, but he thought the amount to be borrowed was too much. The blame in this matter attached to the council of ten years ago.

Ald. Yates was prepared to take upon the present council blame if they did not provide a means of redress.

Ald. Grahame and Ald. Worthington favored the scheme of Ald. Barnard.

Ald. McCandless said he favored nearly everything Ald. Barnard said, but he did not favor doing it so quickly. He favored capitalization of the sewer rentals. The figures of the engineer showed that it would not cost any more to sewer the remaining houses than that already done. As a matter of policy he did not favor a by-law asking for $300,000 just now. This would at the present time be defeated. A by-law to borrow $150,000 might be carried later, and from the extended system, with increased income from rentals, a still further extension could be made. The saving to the city on the board of health account would, he believed, pay the interest on the amount required to complete the system.

His Worship asked Ald. Barnard if in case the by-law was defeated he would still propose to impose the double rental.

In answer to this, Ald. Barnard said he would, and if necessary triple it. His Worship called attention to the fact that sewer connections increased the assessed value of the property. The assessor had said that he regarded it as a means of increasing the value.

Ald. Yates pointed out that while the assessor held that view he yet found it impossible to carry it out, for the reason that the valuation of the property was too high to allow of any further increase.

Ald. Cameron favored a frontage tax for the purpose of deriving the necessary funds. He did not believe in allowing the owners of vacant lots to derive the benefits accruing from municipal improvements without paying for them.

Ald. McCandless's system, which would accomplish the work by easy stages. In extending the city they had afforded a chance for the increasing in value of vacant lots by taxing the progressive man who improved his property.

The Mayor thought that the suggestion of a frontage tax was one which would repay consideration. He thought the matter might be laid over for a time, when it could be more fully considered.

Ald. Kinsman was opposed to doubling the rentals. If he was to pay double rates for sewerage he would prefer that someone else had the benefits rather than he.

Ald. Barnard allowed the matter to be laid over.

The meeting then adjourned.

JAPANESE FISHING BOAT
Chased By Russian Cutter—The Crew Placed in Irons.

Yesterday's Seattle Post-Intelligencer says: "Russia has trained the guns of her war vessels and sunk a Japanese fishing boat, an incident which may result in international complications. This news came from the far North via the steamer John S. Kimball. The war vessel destroying the Japanese merchant ship was the Russian cutter Yagut. The latter arrived at Nome two weeks ago."

"It appears that while the cutter was cruising in the Sea of Okhotsk she fell in with a large Japanese fishing boat. The Japanese, as soon as they saw the cutter, attempted to make their escape, as they were fishing within the limit which, according to Russian law, is ten miles. They had a very good start and their boat was unusually swift, but the Russian cutter speedily overtook them, but it was necessary to fire a shot across their bows before they could be captured."

The officers of the Japanese boat, with their crew, were soon transferred to the Russian gunboat and placed in irons between decks.

"The Russian boat then sailed away, after firing a few shots from her gun through the hull of the fishing boat, when she slowly sank. The reason such drastic measures were taken by the Russian officials is that this boat had been suspected for some time of being a pirate and of robbing the scattered inhabitants dwelling on the shores of the Sea of Okhotsk."

POPULAR ACTORS IN "THE TEMPEST"

SHAKESPERIAN PLAY DREW LARGE AUDIENCE

It Was Splendidly Staged, the Scenery Being Especially Fine—Some-what Disappointing.

Although garbed in scenic splendor and accompanied by these cunning auxiliaries without which the best of plays seem unsatisfactory, it is very much to be doubted if the Ward and James presentation of "The Tempest" last night impressed the majority of the large audience according to its liking. From a spectacular standpoint, the performance has rarely been equalled here, and neither Mr. Ward nor Mr. James has displayed more conscientious regard for the requirements of his role, but their association together revives memories of the days when their superb productions of "Damon and Pythias," "Henry the Eighth," "Othello," "Julius Caesar" and "King Lear" were spoken in the local season. Contrasting the limitations in their latest Shakespearean venture with the vast scope for the display of their virile talent in the plays just mentioned, it is to be regretted, as far as many Victorians are concerned, that the performance was not signalized by the revival of some other production than "The Tempest."

There was nothing grander than the performance of these sterling actors in, for instance, "Othello," as Othello and Iago they had ample opportunity to show alike virility and finesse. The leading character of Mr. James's talent depicts him very strongly to the part of the impetuous Moor, while Mr. Ward is eminently fitted to exploit the varying passions which make the character of Iago one of the most powerful Shakespearean roles.

Both of them in "Julius Caesar," both of them in "Julius Caesar," regardless of their parts, while as Damon and Pythias they played on the susceptibilities of their audience with mastery.

"The Tempest," the first of that unparalleled series which never from the pen of the great bard, does not give either actor such scope. Prospero (Mr. Ward) is a part requiring good presence, and much dignity, qualities which the well known actor possesses to an admirable degree. But after all the part is a limited one, and enables the actor to do little else than give vent to eloquent declamation. Certainly Mr. Ward is a rare eloquentist, and his utterance of some of the majestic passages was an intellectual treat, an education in elocution.

LEADERS AT LOGGERSHEADS.

The Times cannot be accused of occupying a prominent place in the "we told you so" class. Nevertheless we deem it our duty to call attention to our prediction regarding the probable results of the great Conservative convention.

The delegates were real good, well-behaved boys as long as the eyes of the wise leaders from the East were upon them. They concealed the hatchet beneath their garments, shook hands and vowed that henceforth no spirit of contention, raised by mere personal ambition, would be allowed to stand in the way of the success of the party. That was before the Colonel's hopes of being chosen leader had been "dashed to the ground" by an obtrusive person named Charles Wilson, K. C. When we heard of the decision of the convention we hazarded the opinion that the Minister of Mines, whatever his tongue might say, in his heart rebelled at the obstacle that had been placed, no doubt as he thought unfairly, in the path of his ambition. No doubt the Colonel was commended with himself, asked why this man, beaten in his own constituency and almost unknown in the major portion of the province, should be preferred to one who had served the party faithfully, had been honored with a portfolio in a Dominion government and had been long tentatively regarded as the most important figure in Conservative ranks in British Columbia.

We pointed out that it would be an exceedingly difficult thing for a man who had given evidence in his every political movement that he aimed at something higher than a mere portfolio in a provincial administration, that he had retired from Dominion politics because he saw the party was doomed to a career in opposition which could only end with the present political generation—that it would be no easy task for such a man to cast all his ambitious projects behind and become a mere secondary figure for the sake of the party. A party has arisen in federal politics to which the Colonel owes nothing and from which he can hope for nothing. Why should he obliterate himself to add to its prestige?

We think we have portrayed the feelings of our old friend the Colonel without doing him an injustice. His ambition was and is laudable. His indignation at being called upon to stand and deliver by Mr. Charles Wilson, K. C., was natural. If Colonel Prior has a written undertaking from the Premier that he will retire and allow his Minister of Mines to reign in his stead, we can see no reason why he should not insist upon the fulfillment of the bond to the letter, unless, of course, he bound himself with pledges before the convention, the proceedings of which were kept secret. Then the Colonel has given pledges on more than one occasion, but they have never stood the way of his political ambition to an inconvenient extent. Ah, well, the curtain has been raised and the feelings which we surmised animated the chief delegates to the convention have been revealed. And we honestly confess that on this occasion we sympathize with the Colonel. He possesses but few qualifications for the position of Premier, but the man who opposes his selection on the ground that the Mainland will never again "stand for" an Island Premier is too narrow in his views to represent British Columbia in any capacity. We decline to believe that any such spirit pervades the Mainland. That spirit of alleged intolerance is being invoked for merely personal purposes, we fully believe, although the Conservative party in the Dominion has not hesitated to attempt to set province against province for its own evil purposes. That some of the disciples of Sir Charles Tupper would not hesitate to use the same weapon in British Columbia to advance their own personal political fortunes is perhaps not surprising.

SITUATION IN ONTARIO.

And now the silly story that the Globe has called for a coalition in Ontario is given circulation here. The Globe has done nothing of the kind. It has simply discussed an article of Dr. Goldwin Smith on the evils of partyism and treated it with a fairness Conservatives, who are party men chiefly for "what there is in it," cannot comprehend. The proposition that there is no essential reason why the people of the various provinces should be divided into camps labelled Liberal and Conservative requires no demonstration. That they cannot be so arbitrarily divided the history of Canada, since Confederation, proves. Provinces which have repeatedly returned Liberal local governments have just as regularly gone Conservative in Dominion affairs. That it may be expedient in certain circumstances to set up such an arbitrary division we are not prepared to deny.

But the absurdity of the claim that the Liberals of Ontario are seeking to coalesce with the party led by Mr. Whitney is too absurd to be taken seriously by any but politicians who would busy themselves with the hope that the power they have so long eagerly looked forward to is now within their grasp. Mr. Ross had a majority of two when the general elections were over. One of the Liberal members has since died. He had a majority of more than five hundred. On the face of it, it would be almost like a hopeless task for the Whitney people to capture that constituency. A majority of two, reduced to one by the election of a Speaker, is scarcely a sufficient margin for the effective control of the business of a legislature. However, the political history of Canada as a whole and of the provinces particularly proves that governments gain and oppositions lose in strength in bye-elections. Ross is in power with a majority. Whitney is in opposition with a minority. The probability is very strong that there will be no change except in the matter of the relative strength of the parties for another four years.

But, admitting that there can be no change in the situation; granting that it is within the power of the Conservatives to prevent the transaction of business in the House; what would be the constitutional remedy for the dead-lock? Conservatives insist that Ross should be dismissed and Whitney called upon to form a government; that the man in a minority should be given an opportunity to appeal to the country. With the prestige of Premier to aid him the chances of the Conservative leader would be vastly increased, they no doubt argue. But if the present Premier were to ask for a dissolution, could his request be refused? It is said as a reason why it should that Ross has had his opportunity and it failed him. Well, considering all the elements arrayed against the Liberal party, with the liquor men fighting it because it favored a referendum on the prohibition question, and the prohibitionists opposing it because it would not grant prohibition without testing the feeling of the people, it is a wonder Ross did as well as he did. Whitney had such a chance as he never will have again. In the bye-elections the bitterness of the extremists will have subsided and normal conditions will once more prevail. Therefore it is absurd to say the Liberals have made advances towards a coalition. George W. Ross is one of the greatest fighters as well as one of the ablest men in public life in the Dominion. He has a heavy task before him, we admit, but that he will overcome the opposition and reign for four years more as Premier, no one fully cognizant of the situation as it exists to-day has the slightest doubt.

ETHICS OF SPORT.

From a British point of view, there is little to admire or emulate in the procedure of American courts of justice, except that they do not treat jurors as though they were guilty in a secondary degree of the offence of the criminal on whose case they are sitting. The jury in the Underwood case, now before the courts in Seattle, were taken by the sheriff to see a championship baseball match. There they beheld, as it were, a picture of strenuous life of the American of the present day. It was not in that playground a case of the better team winning, with an interested crowd sitting silently by and watching all the points of the play. It was simply a contest for supremacy between all-Seattle players and public, and the luckless nine from the rival city which would presume to float the pennant representative of the championship for the year. All the devices known to the rooster and the fan were employed to "rattle" the Butte men. Horns tooted, the crowds roared and mirrors were flashed in the eyes of the catcher—all for the purpose of preventing good play and giving the home team a better chance. That is the American idea of sport. We do not say it is not a correct idea but it is not the British conception of the manner in which such contests should be carried out. The fitness of the thing, of course, all depends, upon the point of view. The Briton prefers to take his recreation as the bulldog attends to his life's work, without saying anything. And from our point of view it would afford more pleasure to see the opposing team doing the best of which it was capable, and making the home men work their hardest to win than by what is nothing else but outside interference to carry off the honors. A victory won by other than legitimate means should be regarded by all properly constituted minds as a barren honor indeed. To our mind, one of the most attractive features of cricket is the code of ethics by which the game is governed. Shear it of this dignity and surround it by a corps of "rooters" and we sincerely believe its name would not long remain in the land.

The reprehensible spirit which declares that the chief end of sports of all kinds is to win, was the cause of the acrimony which developed over the international contests for the America Cup. Under the original conditions which were engraved by the cup committee upon the deed of gift, all possible handicaps were imposed upon the challenger and everything—such as courses which none but local men could possibly be familiar with—selected which would favor the defender. But repeated appeals to the spirit of fair-play which is as strong in the American breast as in that of any other nationality in the world have eliminated such restrictions, and it may now in all candor be admitted that there is no cause for complaint.

The orators and writers who have been in the habit of holding the ostrich up to contempt as one of the stupidest of created animals should revise their list of stock illustrations, according to a writer in the New York Times. The old tale that ostriches seek to elude observation by hiding their heads in the sand is corroborated by the latter day naturalists, but, unlike their predecessors, they see nothing absurd in the practice—for ostriches—and hold that it demonstrates, not the bird's folly or stupidity, but that effective adaptation to environment which is the wisdom of animals. The ostrich hides his head in the sand for the very good reason that, by so doing, he conceals the only part of his body the colors of which do not blend with and so disappear in those of the sandy regions where he lives. The ostrich sometimes trusts too much and too long to his one trick, but that is only because he has not yet had time to revise his rules and get them into perfect accord with new conditions. He will do so after a while—if he lives long enough.

Henceforth let no mere man (or advanced woman) raise his voice in railing against the corset. It has proved itself a strong shield, and also a buckler of defence, against that great American weapon, the repeating pistol. Only a week ago a school-mistress in New York,—a city with a comparative record for violence and vice not even second to Seattle,—was saved from death by the bullet aimed at her heart striking upon and being deflected by the strong ribs of chilled steel.

VICTORIA THEATRE.

To the Editor:—Can the management of the Victoria theatre tell me if their object in the recent improvement (?) to the "Gods" is intended to promote athletics, or to encourage a laudable inclination to appreciate histrionic talent? If the former, the ticket seller can give them the details of as fine a scrimmage as was ever seen on the football field. If the latter, then the chief fact impressed on the ticket holder was, that rough is the path and exceeding narrow the way that leads to the Nigger Heaven.

ONE OF THE "GODS."

LUNACY RETURNS.

The Increase in England and Wales—Proportion of Cases in Trades and Professions.

The number of lunatics in England and Wales shows a steady increase, according to government statistics issued in the form of a blue-book.

On the first day of this year there were 110,713 notified lunatics, being an increase of 2,709 as compared with the same date in 1901. The average increase in the past ten years has been 2,286 per annum. In 1890 there were only 30,792 cases. Of the increase during last year, 2,140 belonged to the pauper class.

At the present time there is one to every 298 persons, whereas in 1890 there was one to 536. The advance has been almost entirely among the paupers, and the commissioners in lunacy suggested that lunatics of the better social classes are treated privately without being reported. The average number resident in institutions during last year was 86,000, and 8,942 deaths occurred, being a mortality rate of 9.77 per cent. Twenty-eight committed suicide, just double the number of the previous year, and twenty of the suicides occurred in asylums.

The proportion of lunacy (cases in different trades and professions affords some curious comparisons. Costermongers, hawkers, and peddlers have the largest percentage, the yearly average among males being 29.9 per 1,000, and among women 36.9. Female domestic servants and other house and office attendants in private employment have only 12.2 cases, while those engaged at inns and hotels and as charwomen show 20.1 cases. Men in similar employment provide 11.1 cases. Clergymen of the Established Church have a proportion of 124 lunatics in 10,000, while dissenting ministers, Roman Catholic priests, and missionaries, have only 0.8 or half the number. Civil servants provide 15.4 cases, actors, conjurers, and other theatrical performers 10.2 among men and 19.3 among women, soldiers 13.0, men in wool, calico and silk warehouses, 14.9, women 24.4, and commercial travellers 17.8. The proportion of adult single persons becoming insane is much greater than that of married or widowed people. The greatest cause of lunacy among men was intemperance in drink, which accounted for 23.1 per cent. of the cases. Among women, hereditary influence was the leading cause.

BEASTS AND BIRDS AT MASS.

Early in April of each year the animals of the city of Cuzco, Peru, and neighborhood attend Divine service, and are afterwards, in the majority of cases, presented to the church. This celebration, being also a mass for the dead, entails the draping of the church in black. The vast floor of the church is soon packed with whites and Indians, surrounded by their animals, each regarding the solemn ceremony in the way peculiar to his breed. The cows looked pained and puzzled, but otherwise preserve a placid and calm exterior, sitting down and unperturbably chewing the cud. The sheep and lambs bleat plaintively, making attempts to move from their masters' sides, while the chickens and turkeys raise shrill voices in woe and lament at their forced presence there. The entrance of the Padre, who, with the choir, intones the Introit, the "Requiem aeternam dona eis, Domine" ("Give them eternal rest, O Lord") disturbs the much troubled minds of the animals, who, however, to the music dismally, as this is a requiem mass, there is no organ played, and the combination of the various vocal chords strikes a weird and unnatural effect.—The Royal Magazine.

HAIRS FROM GREAT HEADS.

The latest craze is to collect the hair of great men; and a market where suitable locks can be bought has been opened at Paris. The price varies according to the status of the man, and according to whether you belong to his party or not. The hair of a Pope is generally very valuable, and above £2 has been known to be paid for a single lock. Politicians, on the contrary, sometimes fetch a large, and sometimes a small price. You cannot, for example, induce a Royalist to spend a single halfpenny on any memento of Gambetta. Napoleon I., it must be admitted, fetches a good round sum. A famous lock of hair of the great Emperor, which was said to have been cut off by his valet Constant, cannot be got for less than £4. On the other hand a tress from the head of the late President Felix Faure can easily be had for 8d. or 10d. Such is greatness!

BUENOS AYRES LAW.

What a Farmer Suffered at the Hands of Justice.

Here is an illustration of justice as she is administered in this free and glorious country. A farmer up the river caught a craft leading produce from his land. The thieves were caught in the act. Complaint was made to the river police, and the boat was detained when the case went to court. The owner, who was not with the craft, visited the farmer and begged him to have mercy and let his craft go and to pursue the case, as it would mean starvation to the family. He listened to the plea and did not present his witnesses, of which he had several. The case then went by default and the accused were acquitted. After this the boat owner ran foul of a thrasher who saw a chance to ruin the farmer, and he was condemned to pay damages for accusing and not proving his witnesses, and the thrasher was acquitted and delighted in mercy to the thieves. —Buenos Ayres Herald.

THE MOANA AGAIN LOWERS A RECORD

TWO-DAYS AHEAD OF HER SCHEDULED TIME

Celebration of Capt Carey's Jubilee at Sea, and the Ship's Fiftieth Voyage.

All previous performances of the R. M. S. Moana were beaten this morning by that ship when she arrived from Australia via Suva and Honolulu, a full day ahead of time. The steamer was not looked for until to-morrow, and even then would be a day ahead of time table. Her officers had calculated on making port last night and say that they would have done so but for a fog which the steamer ran into when entering the Straits. A day was made on the passage to Suva and another was gained on the remaining distance to port. The officers had heard of the record time which the Aorangi's mail had made in reaching England and were determined that the Moana would also come in for distinction. They had hoped to connect with the Eastern express at Vancouver to-day, but owing to delay through fog will not be able to carry out this programme.

The account of the voyage as furnished by Purser Randall is as follows: "Left Sydney, N. S. W., on the 8th September, at 1:10 p. m., and arrived in Moreton Bay, Brisbane, on the 10th at 6 a. m. Sailed again next day at 1:30 a. m., discharged pilot at 5 a. m. and arrived at Suva on the 15th September at noon. Left again at 10:30 p. m. same day and arrived at Honolulu on the 23rd at 5 a. m. Sailed again at 1:30 p. m. the same day. Cape Flattery ahead on the 30th at 4 a. m. and anchored off William Head at 8:10 a. m. During the entire voyage the Pacific was a 'sea of oil.'"

The Moana had not so large a passenger list on this voyage as she carried on her last trip. Among those who arrived on her were Doctor and Mrs. Campbell and daughter, who are going through to New York after touring the Southern continent. The doctor is a scientist and has been making a study of the climatic conditions of the South Sea islands in the interests of some New York faculty. Another distinguished passenger was a Mr. Bradbury, a member of the staff of Punch (London). He has been making a tour of the world and is now on his return home. The complete passenger list was as follows: First saloon—Doctor and Mrs. Campbell and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Osborn and two sons, Lieut. R. McD. Sutor, R. N., Doctors A. De Morgan and H. J. Rogers, Messdames Dr. Drier and John Lang, Misses Townsend and E. Cameron, Messrs. I. Wyatt, W. E. Woodworth, F. C. Flasiach, G. A. Robertson, Bradbury, E. W. Sutton, L. H. Saville, S. Dredner, Hamilton, J. S. McArthur, James Scott, W. N. Gibb, F. W. Carter, W. A. Kolmer and V. Hoffmann.

Second saloon—Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. Everest, Mrs. Dunn, Misses G. Radford, F. White and Casey, Rev. D. A. Whyte, B. Nunnelly, A. Sora, J. Laing, V. Samelson and A. H. Elliott.

Steerage—Mr. and Mrs. Judge and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Foxgourd and three sons, Mr. Duffy, Mr. Tyas and son, Mrs. Bray, Miss O'Toole, Miss Elliott, Messrs. Little, A. Whyte, B. Nunnelly, A. Sora, J. Laing, V. Samelson and A. H. Elliott.

The ship's consignment list contained 36 cases of jam, 35 cases of mineral water, 49 pkgs. of timber, 8 cases of meats, 10 cases of tins, 6 barrels of oil, 273 bags of skins and sundry packages of merchandise.

On the voyage an event of uncommon happening aboard a steamer occurred. The passage was the 50th double voyage which the ship has completed across the Pacific, and it also marked the 50th anniversary of the skipper's life and work on sea. The event was duly celebrated and the passengers banded together to make an interesting presentation of a silver pitcher bearing a suitable inscription. The present was accompanied by an address signed by all the passengers, which read as follows:

We, the passengers of the S. S. Moana, are desirous of expressing our pleasure at having ourselves under your charge on an occasion that is truly a red letter one on the present voyage, as we understand, you complete not only your 50th double voyage across the Pacific ocean, but also 50 years of life and work on the ocean. We offer you most heartily our congratulations.

—Louis J. Seymour, stenographer to the Royal commission on mining accidents, spent a night in the woods at Cumberland as a result of his losing his way while on a fishing excursion. A party was on the search for him when he walked into the town.

—The four-masted schooner Balboa arrived from Southern California yesterday afternoon with the balance of a cargo of nitrate, which she brought from the Victoria Chemical Works, where she is discharging the remainder of her cargo.

—The Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners held a social meeting in Labor hall last evening. Short address was delivered, but the greater part of the programme was of a musical character. On October 13th J. W. Bolden will give an address upon "The British in Egypt."

—Steamer Otter returned to port today after an absence of about three weeks. She had been sent north to Skagway with three or four hundred tons of Yukon freight, and on her return loaded salmon at northern British Columbia canneries. Part of her fish cargo was discharged on the Fraser, and the balance she brought down to Victoria, arriving last night.

—A very select programme of instrumental and vocal music will be given in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church to-morrow evening. The duet "I Waited for the Lord" will be sung by Mrs. G. J. Barnett and Miss Laura Lowman. Both these vocalists will also give new solos, composed by G. J. Barnett. There will be a choice organ programme also, and Jesse Longfield will give a violin solo.

—Still two more strikes on the Mount Sicker and Brighton Mines Company's property are reported. A body of sulphide copper ore has been found on the southern drift of the cross-cut 30 feet from the end of the tunnel on the Copper Canyon, while on the Victoria, where work was resumed a few days ago, and other rich vein was discovered after the first shot had been fired. This had been exploded for six feet, and the outer wall had not yet been reached. A sample of the ore is now on exhibition at the office of Messrs. Pelletier, Harvey, Bryant & Gilmore.

—The Garment Workers' Union in this city has completed its organization, and has affiliated with the International Union of Garment Workers of America. The officers elected are: B. C. Pettin, president; Miss M. A. White, vice-president; Miss E. A. Connell, recording and financial secretary; Miss Leslie Freeman, treasurer, and Miss F. Brown, nurse. A committee have in hand the question of drafting a wage scale. It was decided to recommend to the International Union that the conditions prevailing at the Turner-Boston factory were such as to entitle the firm to use the union label.

—The name of Captain Carey is known throughout the length of the Pacific, and when it comes to handing over your duties and responsibilities to another and to go ashore may you peacefully enjoy the breathing of life untroubled as you will be by friends, and proud in the consciousness of having done your duty. We ask you at the same time to accept this more substantial, if quite inadequate, token of our esteem. It may, at any rate, serve to keep in kindly remembrance these companions who were with you on a memorable voyage.

—The account of the voyage as furnished by Purser Randall is as follows: "Left Sydney, N. S. W., on the 8th September, at 1:10 p. m., and arrived in Moreton Bay, Brisbane, on the 10th at 6 a. m. Sailed again next day at 1:30 a. m., discharged pilot at 5 a. m. and arrived at Suva on the 15th September at noon. Left again at 10:30 p. m. same day and arrived at Honolulu on the 23rd at 5 a. m. Sailed again at 1:30 p. m. the same day. Cape Flattery ahead on the 30th at 4 a. m. and anchored off William Head at 8:10 a. m. During the entire voyage the Pacific was a 'sea of oil.'"

The Moana had not so large a passenger list on this voyage as she carried on her last trip. Among those who arrived on her were Doctor and Mrs. Campbell and daughter, who are going through to New York after touring the Southern continent. The doctor is a scientist and has been making a study of the climatic conditions of the South Sea islands in the interests of some New York faculty. Another distinguished passenger was a Mr. Bradbury, a member of the staff of Punch (London). He has been making a tour of the world and is now on his return home. The complete passenger list was as follows: First saloon—Doctor and Mrs. Campbell and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Osborn and two sons, Lieut. R. McD. Sutor, R. N., Doctors A. De Morgan and H. J. Rogers, Messdames Dr. Drier and John Lang, Misses Townsend and E. Cameron, Messrs. I. Wyatt, W. E. Woodworth, F. C. Flasiach, G. A. Robertson, Bradbury, E. W. Sutton, L. H. Saville, S. Dredner, Hamilton, J. S. McArthur, James Scott, W. N. Gibb, F. W. Carter, W. A. Kolmer and V. Hoffmann.

Second saloon—Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. Everest, Mrs. Dunn, Misses G. Radford, F. White and Casey, Rev. D. A. Whyte, B. Nunnelly, A. Sora, J. Laing, V. Samelson and A. H. Elliott.

Steerage—Mr. and Mrs. Judge and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Foxgourd and three sons, Mr. Duffy, Mr. Tyas and son, Mrs. Bray, Miss O'Toole, Miss Elliott, Messrs. Little, A. Whyte, B. Nunnelly, A. Sora, J. Laing, V. Samelson and A. H. Elliott.

The ship's consignment list contained 36 cases of jam, 35 cases of mineral water, 49 pkgs. of timber, 8 cases of meats, 10 cases of tins, 6 barrels of oil, 273 bags of skins and sundry packages of merchandise.

On the voyage an event of uncommon happening aboard a steamer occurred. The passage was the 50th double voyage which the ship has completed across the Pacific, and it also marked the 50th anniversary of the skipper's life and work on sea. The event was duly celebrated and the passengers banded together to make an interesting presentation of a silver pitcher bearing a suitable inscription. The present was accompanied by an address signed by all the passengers, which read as follows:

We, the passengers of the S. S. Moana, are desirous of expressing our pleasure at having ourselves under your charge on an occasion that is truly a red letter one on the present voyage, as we understand, you complete not only your 50th double voyage across the Pacific ocean, but also 50 years of life and work on the ocean. We offer you most heartily our congratulations.

NEW WESTMINSTER FAIR.

Exhibition Was Opened To-Day by Sir Henri Joly.

(Special to the Times.)

New Westminster, Sept. 30.—Lieut. Governor Joly, assisted by Hon. J. P. Prentiss, formally opened the provincial exhibition this afternoon. A large crowd was in attendance. Sir Henri Joly was presented with an address of welcome by Mayor Keary. Sir Henri thanked them, and in a neat speech declared the exhibition opened. This is his first visit to New Westminster. Hon. Mr. Prentiss followed with a speech. The weather is delightful.

SAILS NEXT WEEK.

Florence M. Smith Signing a Crew for Voyage to Falkland Islands.

On Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, the sailing schooner Florence M. Smith will take her departure on the voyage which is to take her to the Falkland Islands seal hunting grounds. Although all her crew have not yet signed, the men have been pretty well picked and in them Capt. Ryan will have some of the most expert hunters in this city. They will sign for a two-year cruise and will receive their mail via Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, which will be the sailing rendezvous for the schooners of this port and Nova Scotia. Capt. Ryan is now in Seattle and will not be home for a few days yet. Soon after he leaves for the Southern Atlantic the E. B. Marvin, the only other vessel which will make the trip from this port, will sail with a second crew of as competent sailors as can be found.

CANNERY SUPPLIES.

Prices May Be Advanced Owing to Strike of Packers.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—A cable from Wales this morning says the tinworkers are on strike, and it is probable the prices of canners' supplies will be increased. Sir Charles Tupper arrived today. He is much amused at the strike, and has helped along the platform for Sir H. Joly's arm. He will visit here for some time.

G. R. MAXWELL ILL.

He Is at Present Confined to Montreal Hospital.

(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Sept. 30.—G. R. Maxwell, M. P., is ill in Montreal hospital. Mr. Kelly, of Vancouver, is here on business with the fisheries department. He had an interview last evening with Hon. J. H. Thompson.

—Hon. D. M. Eberts, attorney-general, returned home from England last night. —Lieut. Col. Rigg, of Halifax, inspected the R. G. A. corps at Work Point barracks yesterday.

—The remains of the late John Friday were interred this morning. The funeral took place from the residence of his mother, Mrs. Mary Friday, Victoria West, at 8.15, and at 9 o'clock at the Roman Catholic Cathedral. Rev. Father Kennedy and Rev. Father Latour connected religious services. There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends and many floral offerings. The following acted as pallbearers: C. B. Olen, R. Conn, G. H. Sacht, G. Kay, H. Doran and W. Chalmers.

—The executive of the Victoria Tourist Association is convening this afternoon. Business of importance is up for discussion. H. Cuthbert, the travelling representative, states that several projects are on foot for next summer's work, which, if successfully carried through, will mean a great deal towards attracting tourists this way. Several members of the association recently waited on Hon. W. C. Wells, chief commissioner of lands and works, in regard to the extension of the road running from Oak Bay to Cordova Bay, and it was promised that the work would be commenced this fall.

"AS ITHERS SEE US."

To the Editor:—The British Columbia of Sept. 23rd has this: "Mr. Fletcher, the veteran of the party of visiting British editors, says: 'The public educational institutes and public schools of Canada are far ahead of those in Great Britain.'"

This expression of opinion from such a source is respectfully submitted to the 40th Country people in our midst, who are continually finding a valley of humiliation for all things Canadian.

A "MACCABEE TENT."

Ladies of This Order Will Be Well Represented at the Big Exhibition.

In connection with the agricultural exhibition the Ladies of the Maccabees are taking the initiative in a step followed by similar organizations in other places in having fraternal work represented at the exhibition. In many instances in Eastern cities the "Fraternal avenue," which is composed of tents of the fraternal societies, is a feature of the exhibition. These are used as the headquarters of the various societies, and are much appreciated by visiting members.

At the coming exhibition the Ladies of the Maccabees will have a commodious tent erected at the right hand of the main entrance to the building, which will be fitted up with every convenience and comfort for visitors. A room will be arranged for the special use of the busy women working at the fair, where a quiet half hour's rest may be had. Another will be exclusively for the use of those desiring to write letters, and will be plentifully furnished with postage and stationery, while a large room for general use will afford every comfort for tired sightseers to rest and be refreshed. Refreshments will be served, and parties desirous of making appointments to meet friends may use the Maccabee tent for this purpose. The ladies in charge will leave nothing undone to make this "Maccabee tent" one of the attractions and conveniences of the exhibition, and will be glad to add in any way to the comfort of the many ladies who will be in attendance.

A NEW AFFLICTION.

"Americantia" Is the Prevalent Trouble South of the Zone—It Should Be "Dollartia."

Local pathologists will be interested to learn that a new disease has been added to the extensive catalogue claiming the attention of their brethren across the border. It is called "Americantia," and a considerable proportion of the population are afflicted with it. That it exists is not to be questioned, because a sufferer from the South was in the city the other day, and that the breeding northern climate, the calm even tenor of Victoria life, would restore the strength that was sadly impaired by the new and very destructive malady.

He dropped into a local store and asked the clerk if he could direct him to some quiet, healthy spot where a man might recuperate his lost vigour and incidentally bring back some of the bloom to his faded countenance. The clerk was naturally sympathetic. "What's the trouble?" he inquired. "Well, I'll tell you," wearily responded the other, "I've got 'Americantia.'"

This was something new. The clerk revolved in his mind the list of "lises" with which he was familiar, but couldn't recall this one. Noting his look of inquiry the new arrival smiled—a wan shadowy smile—and explained "Americantia" is nothing new down South, although the name may sound strangely here. It is a state of nervous collapse induced by the excessive activity and strain incidental to the life of the city where I reside. We leap up in the morning, bolt our breakfast, rush to work, and are so incessantly and feverishly at it that when the day is over we don't know whether we are standing on our feet or on our heads; result, 'Americantia,' a collapse physically and mentally, an immediate effect of the city life reaching out for that silver object with an eagle and 'E Pluribus Unum' on it. The symptoms are plain, and when they begin to show themselves the afflicted one should take a rest."

The clerk decided at once that a few weeks at Shawnigan would fix him up, so he recommended the resort, and, it is understood, the recommendation has been acted upon.

COTTAGE CITY'S DAMAGES.

How the Work of Floating the Steamer Was Accomplished.

One of the salvage party who assisted in the floating of the steamer Cottage City was in town today, and reports that the injury to the ship is perhaps more serious than anyone knows. Because of the position in which she rested on the rocks, her machinery was shifted and all the auxiliary piping broken. The work of raising the ship was accomplished in just three days. The keel and girders were carried away for a distance of forty feet, and so attempt was made to effect repairs beyond the forward bulkhead.

Some damage was sustained about the bulkhead, but this was made good and the forward bulkhead was plugged. The ship floated free of the rocks. When the empty casks came to take the weight of the forward part of the ship, however, so awkward was her position that the sides sprung, and it was found when it came to refloating them that one had been jammed between the dock and wall as though held by a vise.

Once about no attempt was made to beach the steamer, and the holes were plugged. This was done because the straining of the ship in loosening her grip on the rocks would have cracked all the cement which could have been used in the undertaking and rendered abortive the work accomplished.

The Cottage City's stern lay 28 feet in the water at low tide, and at flood water her after end was completely submerged.

The ship is now in stable and will probably be repaired in Moran's yard, that firm having been on work for a new pair of belt for the engine for 17 days and nights.

The barque was on the verge of sinking when the Pennsylvania sighted her. Captain Hansen, her commander, decided to set fire to the vessel before leaving her to avoid the possibility of the Bothnia interfering with navigation. The Bothnia sailed from Bridgewater, N. S., on August 27th, for Swansen. She was formerly named the Markland. She was built at St. Martin's, N. B., in 1871, and was owned by E. Rahn.

Another Boat Burned.

Liverpool, Sept. 30.—The British steamer Capella, Capt. McKee, from New Orleans, September 10th, for Liverpool, which arrived today, had on board the crew of the Norwegian barque Winnona, which was abandoned at sea after having been set on fire. The barque Winnona was last reported as having arrived at Bridgewater, N. S., on August 2nd, from Preston, England. She was built at Richbuck in 1874.

LORD MAYOR SAMUEL.

Rabbi Cohen Numbers Among His Personal Friends This Newly-Elected Official.

The new lord mayor of London, Eng., whose election to this important position was recorded in yesterday's Times, is known personally to Rabbi Cohen, of this city. The selection of a Jewish lord mayor is not an uncommon occurrence in London, as at different times this office has belonged to his faith. In 1807 Sir Fairdell Phillips, who was lord mayor, was a Jew, and in 1865 his father, Sir Benj. Samuel Phillips, occupied the post. The present lord mayor was born in London in 1853. He was educated at Edinboro and Brussels. From 1895 to 1897 he represented the shipowners on the Thames conservancy. In 1894-95 he was sheriff of the city. He is lord of the manor of Mote and has been for years a justice of the peace for Kent. The clubs of which he is a member are the City, Carlton and Kent County.

CONCERT THIS EVENING.

An Attractive Event Arranged to Take Place in Waitt's Hall.

In Waitt's music hall to-night a recital will be given by Herr Pele Storck and Herbert Ritchie, which should attract the music lovers of this city. Herr Storck, a pianist of undoubted ability, is already well known to the instrumentalists of Victoria, and his mastery playing always meets with the admiration of all who hear it.

Mr. Ritchie makes his debut to a local audience this evening. He is a star violinist, and, judging by the enthusiastic reception which he and Mr. Storck received at Vancouver on Saturday, the concert this evening should prove a rare musical treat. During the evening Miss Helen Taylor will act as accompanist. The programme for the event will be as follows:

- Sonata for Violin and Piano (F. Major).
- Beethoven
- Herbert Ritchie and Herr Pele Storck.
- Concerto in Minor for Piano..... Grieg
- Fantasia Roccassia (1st and 2nd Move-ments)..... Max Bruch
- Herbert Ritchie.
- (a) The Murmurs of the Wind..... Sauer
- Herr Pele Storck.
- (b) Valse Impromptu..... Wieniawski
- (c) Legend..... Wieniawski
- (d) La Jole..... Papini
- Herbert Ritchie.

DISMAYED BARQUE.

Andromeda sighted by Officers of the Moana in Disabled Condition.

On her voyage here from the southern Pacific the E. M. S. Moana passed the well known Norwegian barque Andromeda, which was in a disabled condition. The crippled ship was bound from Iquique to Europe and had evidently been overtaken by a violent storm, which completely wrecked her. The barque had lost her mainmast, fore topmast and mainmast topmast. She was passed just this side of Honolulu, and was being towed to that port by a Hawaiian tugboat. As the Moana passed her officers saw the side of the vessel, which shows her without rigging or masts of any kind. The vessel was in ballast and coming north, it was supposed, for lumber cargo.
